PROGRAM DESCRIPTIONS

DORIS DUKE CONSERVATION SCHOLARS PROGRAM (DDCSP) ALUMNI NETWORK
 The Doris Duke Conservation Scholars Program (DDCSP) Alumni Network was established in 2017 to support the ongoing networking and professional development of the 150+ alumni of DDCSP. The Environmental Leadership Program manages the continued development of the DDCSP Alumni Network through online programming and leadership retreats to strengthen and sustain relationships of its cohorts and cultivate new and lasting cross-program alumni connections, support their ongoing leadership and professional development, and connect them to a broad network of conservation and environmental professionals and new career opportunities.

ROGER ARLINER YOUNG (RAY) DIVERSITY FELLOWSHIP PROGRAM (CONSERVATION AND CLEAN ENERGY)

The RAY Fellowship offers first-time career access opportunities for recent college graduates who do not have previous professional experience or a graduate degree. RAY Fellows are placed within one of our 'Conservation and Clean Energy Member Organizations' for a two year paid fellowship position, and equipped with the tools, support, and community they need to become leaders in the conservation and clean energy sectors.

CORE FELLOWSHIP PROGRAMS (NATIONAL AND REGIONAL)

Our 8 Fellowship Programs offer intensive leadership and skill training, regional and national networking opportunities, and time for personal and professional reflection. Through immersive retreats and optional additional trainings, our curriculum helps social and environmental leaders hone their leadership styles, improve their strategy and organizational development, and strengthen their outreach to diverse constituencies. ELP is committed to selecting Fellows that represents diversity of race and ethnicity, gender, sector, sexual orientation, education levels, professional background, values and traditions, and expertise.
